

Brief information about the project

Name of the project	AP15473125 «South Korea's policy towards global and regional international organizations»
Relevance	As part of this work, a study will be carried out on the foreign policy of South Korea in relation to political and economic multilateral institutions, as well as humanitarian interaction between the Republic of Kazakhstan and the Republic of Korea. In the modern period, international organizations have a significant impact on international relations. A variety of mechanisms of international organizations cover and streamline the activities of states in the political, economic, trade and financial, cultural, scientific, and humanitarian spheres. Regardless of their military power and the size of their economies, states view international organizations as a tool that can contribute to their prestige, protection or national interests. In the international arena, Astana and Seoul are quite interacting in multilateral institutions within the UN. Kazakhstan supported the candidacy of the Minister of Foreign Affairs and Trade of South Korea Ban Ki-moon as the UN Secretary General. South Korea, in turn, supported the candidacy of Kazakhstan as a non-permanent member of the Security Council for 2017-2018. The Republic of Korea has a positive attitude towards the CICA process. In this context, the relevance of the study lies in the need to analyze the cooperation between South Korea and international organizations such as the UN, the European Union, ASEAN and the EAEU at the present stage in the context of globalization.
Purpose	The purpose of the study is a comprehensive analysis and generalization of South Korean foreign policy in relation to global and regional international organizations.
