

Brief information about the project

Name	The Virtuous Man in the Legacy of Al-Farabi and the Turkic Scholars: A Comparative Discourse
Relevance	The theoretical and methodological study of the heritage of Al-Farabi and Turkic scholars has great philosophical, social, historical and pedagogical significance. In accordance with social needs, the essence and content of education and formation of a virtuous person changes at each stage. The goal is to study the theory of Turkic integrity with the main borrowing of the ideas of Al-Farabi and Turkic thinkers regarding the human problem. The project examines the place and achievements of modern Turkic countries in civilization as a modern embodiment of Turkic existence and character along with the heritage of the Otyrar thinker. The conclusions of the project open the way to the scientific substantiation of the propaganda of the idea of Turkic integrity through "the development of a civilized dialogue and a culture of mutual respect" (K. Tokayev).
