

Brief information about the project

Name of the project	BR18574057 «Interdisciplinary (archaeological and historical-ethnographic) study the cultural heritage of the south-eastern and eastern regions of Kazakhstan (Shu-Ili, Tarbagatai and Alakol)»
Relevance	The program consists of a comprehensive interdisciplinary study of such a vast territory as the South-Eastern and eastern regions of Kazakhstan, which includes the Shu-Ili area, Tarbagatai and Alakol Basin valleys, from ancient times to the ethnographic period for the first time. In particular, the history of important monuments in the regions, the system of nutrition of the ancient people, new complexes of petroglyphs, cultural attribution, description and typology of the accumulated material complex, etc. are considered. The proposed program is the beginning of the study of the above-mentioned regions from the Stone Age to the Post-Middle Ages.
Purpose	Comprehensive, interdisciplinary (historical, archaeological-ethnographic, museum-monument studies, socio-ethnological) scientific study of the history and culture of the south-eastern and eastern regions of Kazakhstan (Shu-Ili area, Tarbagatai and Alakol basin regions).
Objectives	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - identification of the specifics of the evolution and transformation of monuments of the Stone Age and early metal on the territory of Zhetysu and the study of the features of the economic and cultural type; - carrying out a complex of natural science research in order to determine the chronology of monuments and recreate the life support system, cultural affiliation and reconstruction of the types of economic activity of the ancient population of the region; - mapping and description of modern and paleogeographic features of the studied areas as the main reference point for the interpretation of elements of the natural and cultural landscape; - complete ethnographic description, identification of the semantic meaning and cultural roots of the traditional beliefs of the Kazakhs in the customs and rituals of the family cycle; - within the framework of studying the problems of ethnogenesis of the tradition of compiling genealogies of the Kazakh tribes of the studied region; - socioethnological research and study of the process of migration, adaptation, management of economic activities of the Kazakhs of the study area.
Expected and achieved results	The data obtained on the history of the Chu-Ili area, Tarbagatai and Alakol depressions before and before the ancient and ethnographic epochs have a great socially

	significant impact on knowledge of the history of the past of the people, awakening a sense of patriotism. The scientific results of the performers were published in domestic and international scientific journals, as well as reflected in one monograph, one album and one textbook.
Research team members with their identifiers (Scopus Author ID, Researcher ID, ORCID, if available) and links to relevant profiles	1. Rinat Zhumatayev, Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in the field of archaeology, - Hirsch Index – 2, ResearcherID - T-1620-2017; https://orcid.org/0000-0002-2291-4992 ; Scopus Author ID -57222067364 2. Shakenov Samat, Scopus Author ID - 57222073182 3. Kartayeva Tattigul, Candidate of Historical Sciences, Professor, Hirsch Index -1; ResearcherID - 012312014; https://orcid.org/0000-0001-6180-4107 ; Scopus Author ID - 56509526900
List of publications with links to them
Patents	-