

Brief information about the project

Name of the project	«Languages and Cultures of Ancient Italy, Historical Linguistics and Digital models»
Relevance	Many aspects of the history of Kazakh-Italian cultural ties have been studied in detail. However, there is practically no research on the history of languages and culture of ancient Italy based on a digital model. This project is a joint development and the participation of Kazakhstani scientists is designated as a peer-reviewed party
Purpose	The purpose of the work is to study and form a digital model using the principles of historical linguistics
Objectives	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>– To determine the influence of linguistic features of ancient Italy on the formation of modern ecoculture;</li><li>– Identify and develop digital models using comparative analysis of tools and methods</li></ul>
Expected and achieved results	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>– Development of a joint visualization model for systematized digital data in the field of studying the linguistic and cultural characteristics of ancient Italy</li></ul>
